Naval Concert Good Naval Dance Dec. 1

The Naval Concert given in Griesback Hall last Thursday evening was well attended and proved most interesting.

At the opening and during the intermission of views a number of patriotic songs and duets were rendered by Mrs. McLean, Mr. Scott and Rev. Mr. White, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. McLeod.

Mr. Hillocks, who was to have delivered an address, found it quite impossible to attend, but Mr. Irvine made up for this in a very interesting talk in which he explained the dozens of excellent stereoptician views of war scenes thrown on the canvas. A number of the views were of our own boys taken in Calgary and in other parts of Canada, and readily recognized. The flags and the sailors were lustily cheered, and a keen interest manifested in the views of magnificent war ships, wonderful machinery and ponderous guns. In brief those who missed the lecture and pictures may well regret it.

The entertainment was given the interests of the British Sailors Relief Fund and while there was realized from the collection taken $68, there is little doubt but that Mr. Irvine's efforts will result in a great deal more being contributed by those in attendance to assist the widows and orphans of the brave sailors who gave their lives that we Canadians might have open ports and enjoy all that life means to us.

Mr. Vigar occupied the chair and wishes to sincerely thank all who took part in the entertainment, and also to acknowledge the following donations:

To My Patrons

I wish to call your attention that in order to test out our town and ascertain the willingness or otherwise of my friends to support really meritorious companies at my theatre, I have gone to much personal trouble and assumed a very considerable financial risk to bring here a specially selected company of metropolitan players, which is appearing in a coast to coast tour of "Peg O' My Heart", universally regarded the greatest success of recent years, and I hope that I may have your support.

This company contains Miss Dorothy La Vern, who is well known in the states and has starred in a number of big productions there; also Mr. William Sauter, who was with Sir Johnston Forbes Robertson and E. S. Willard. The other players were all specially selected for the parts they play, and I can testify that I know by investigation that the company has received the greatest of praise in the large cities everywhere.

Farmers Should be More Co-Operative

BY JOHN GLAMICK

There is a very old saying that "Every dog has his day". This is in which the farmer has his and it is surely coming to him.

When ever you meet a farmer walking along on the main street with a big hump bulging out where his hind pocket is supposed to be you can make up your mind that he has just sold a load of grain.

But if that same farmer stays in town long enough and buys much at the present war prices his wad shrinks quit a bit. Still as long as the present war prices last we will cheerfully submit to the rest and it is certainly coming to us.

For the past ten years the farmers of the Queenstown district have had to put up with all the hardships of frontier life and received very little in return for our labor. Dried out and frozen out, and some of us hauled out; neglected by the government so far as transporting our grain to town goes; paying high prices for everything we bought; paying enormous rates of interest on the money we had to borrow, and getting low prices for our grain.

It is only four years ago that we hauled our wheat to Gleichen and Cluny and had to sell it all the way from 37 to 69 cents a bushel. Anybody who knows anything about farming knows that raising wheat at such prices is a loose proposition.

Then we were advised to go into hogs and that year we were dried out. We had no hog feed and had either to give our hogs away or shoot them on the place. In those years most of us had to have our notes and credit in the stores extended, and while it is very nice to be able to buy on time and to borrow money in the bank, the farmers pay mighty high for the accommodation. The interest—the nightmare of every debt-ridden farmer—is always in working order. It never misses; dry years, wet and frozen years it works on as regular as a clock. It works on regular up until your note is due. Then the compound gets in its extra work and before you realize it you work the whole year for the man who loaned you the money.

This is the year when every farmer with a good crop should get out of debt as far as possible and then start buying his goods for cash.

This is also the year when every farmer should join the Farmer Union and Co-operative Buying Association in his district.

Unfortunately there are some farmers whom seem to think this year that they don't need the farmers movement to help them along and that it is only useful in poor years.

This is entirely wrong. This is the very year when the co-operative tunity for a town of our size to see a big city show. Furthermore this engagement means much to us. If it receives the support it deserves, we will be able to induce other good companies to visit us. If it fails, the task will be a difficult one.

Help to place our town on the theatrical map and by doing so assure yourself one of the most delightful evenings you have ever spent at the theatre.

EMIL GRIESBACH.

P. S. Notwithstanding the exceptional expense attached to this company, I have arranged for the price for the best seats to be $1.00.

Blackfeet Indians Get $150,000

When abroad frequently people have a smile when they learn one comes from Gleichen. Sometimes they ask: "Where did you get all the clothes and how are the rest of the Dukhobors?" When informed our town's name is German some take it hard and want to know why it is not changed. Some goody-goody folks remark: "You come from where the big stampede was held and where they kill cattle for pleasure. Others smile: "Where's your blanket? How's Mr. and Mrs. Blackfoot and all the redskins?"

But we can stand all the jokes with pleasure as we tell of the best district in the last best west. The Indians are in the limelight just now and we would like to ask our distant white brothers if they would not appreciate a few and men around their town if they spent $150,000.00 with them?

Agent Gooderham tells us that is a conservative estimate of what the Blackfeet will distribute in this district this year. On Monday he paid $2,200.00 to the South Camp Indians in wages for threshing and other work. Today Mr. Jowett will pay out about the same to the North Camp men at the Agency, while Mr. Gooderham and Mr. Gordon will start paying treaty today at the South Camp and finish tomorrow at the Agency. Thus this week the Indians will receive about $8,000, and they are keeping our merchants mighty busy.

There is now over $70,000 in the bank here for the Indians wheat and none of their oats has been touched yet. But their oats will bring their bank account well past the $100,000 mark. Pretty good farming for red men.

But the Indians have also been helping their white neighbors in harvesting and threshing their crops, of which the agency keeps no track, nor of the various other ways the Indians earn money.

Thus with farming, treaty money, wages, hauling gravel and sand, selling hay, coal, cattle, horses and so on, they are a fairly enterprising and well-to-do lot of people. Allowing they only have $150,000 this year, that will give every man, woman and child more than $214 each. Add the value of their land and they are the most wealthy 700 people in one district we have heard of, red or white.

buying movement should get on its feet; when everybody has cash.

It is an absolutely undeniable fact that in every country where the farmers are strongly organized they are better off than where each man sells his own canoe. It stands to reason that where a number of people put their money together and can buy in large quantities that they can buy much cheaper.

The local co-operative buying movement does not necessarily mean the killing out of the local merchant I that any wide-awake merchant in our local towns would always be glad to sell at a reasonable price for cash. There is no good reason why the money should be sent elsewhere.

But the co-operative buying is only one part of the farmers movement. The co-operative selling is just as important if not more.

The Alberta Farmers Co-Operative Elevator Co. has already done much in this line and is prepared to do more if the farmers will support them. Any farmer having hogs or cattle for sale should get in touch with them, and also those wanting stock for feeding should apply there.

Another important feature with the farmers movement is the political side. The organized Alberta farmers have already obtained some concessions from the provincial government and will obtain more if they hang together.

So far the farmers have obtained very little recognition from the Dominion Government but the future is ours. It all depends on ourselves whether we shall be recognized or not. There are some great questions that affect us very much that must be solved. For instance the free trade question. So here is my advice to farmers this year. Join your local Farmers Union and take a share in your local co-operative buying association. Also take a share in the Grain Growers Grain Co. and don't pay any attention to what its enemies say about it. It is working for your interest.

Remember that no one will solve the farmers trouble except the farmers themselves.

Threshing Stopped Elevators Now Full

Saturday night about an inch of snow fell effectively stopping all threshing. More began falling yesterday morning and continues as this goes into type. For the week the weather has been fine and warm and grain hauling has been in full swing. The flowing ice in the Bow river made it necessary to pull out the ferry south of Cluny and thus has stopped grain hauling from the Queenstown district, save for a few hauling around by the bridge.

Cars are very scarce and the elevators have had to refuse grain at times until cars arrived.

MATTHEWS & KIDNEY, Ltd. THE CASH STORE

BUYING FOR CASH

We have just completed negotiations, whereby we have been placed on the jobbers list for the majority of the goods we handle. It may be hard to believe, but we have today reduced many of the lines that have formerly sold at established prices.

Any man or woman with ordinary intelligence knows that when they deal with a merchant who gives long credit, they have to pay for the fellow who does not and because a merchant has carried you for months, does not place you under any obligations to him, remember you have paid him well for it. The fact of him allowing you a special discount for cash and also having two prices, one for the fellow who does pay and one for the fellow who MAY pay is sufficient proof.

We have one price for all. No bad debts to pay for here.

MATTHEWS & KIDNEY, Ltd.

You know as well as we, but you put off taking out a policy. Why?

You'll be provoked at yourself the day after the fire that sweeps away your savings if they are not insured. What earthly excuse have you for not seeing us to-day? We await your answer.

Decreased Wheat Yield for Canada This Year

Dominion Government's Estimate Is for a Total Crop of 159,123,000 Bushels

The wheat crop of Canada for the present year will be only 159,123,000 bushels, as compared with 370,303,000 bushels in 1915, according to an official estimate. The average yield per acre was estimated at 15.78 bushels from a harvested area of 10,058,300 acres, as compared with 29 bushels from a harvested area of 12,980,400 acres in 1915.

A marked decrease in the production of oats also was indicated by the estimated yield of 338,469,000 bushels from 9,795,000 acres, a yield of 34.55 bushels per acre, as against 45.76 bushels last year, when the production was 520,103,000 bushels from a harvested area of 11,565,000 acres.

The barley crop was estimated at 32,299,000 bushels from 1,328,800 acres, or 24.31 bushels per acre. Last year's crop was 53,331,300, and the acreage 1,509,350.

The probable production of rye was announced as 2,058,500 bushels from 101,420 acres, or an average yield per acre of 20.30 bushels as against a total production in 1915 of 2,304,100 bushels from an acreage of 112,300.

The New English Armies

It is the soul of England which in two years has made an army that is not content to hold its ground against an army at which Prussia has been laboring for three centuries. It is the Englishman who has beaten the German. It is the infantrymen from the other side of the Channel and the other side of the sea, the English man from the Thames, the quiet country, and the industrial like, the Scotsman faithful to his kilt, the Canadian who defends two countries, old and new, the Australian, bronzed by the sun and like a young Greek god. It is these men who have put to rout the most famous regiments of the enormous empire of prey — Le Figaro, Paris.

Trade was bad. At the end of another blank day the disengaged salesman called on another prospective customer and asked to show his samples.

"No, there is nothing I want to day," said the customer.

"But will you just examine my line of goods?" the salesman persisted.

"Then," said the salesman merrily, "will you let me use a part of your counter to look at them myself, as I have not had the opportunity for some time?" — New York Times.

"What do you think of this extra hour of daylight scheme?"

"What I'm for is more moonlight," declared the romantic girl. — Louisville Courier-Journal.

How a "Caterpillar" Man Looks in War Suit

Tank Operator Was Mistaken for a German and Narrowly Avoided Trouble

A Canadian sergeant-major states that near the fifth German line the now famous "tank" of the "Land Navy" got stuck up momentarily. "I had to laugh," he said, "for there were Germans clambering upon its back and trying to find the door. Then suddenly it began to move again with the Germans sitting astride. One by one they tumbled off and the 'elephant' just went on!"

"One of the crew of a 'caterpillar' had a narrow escape," said another Londoner. "Prisoners were coming forward in large batches and one of the men from inside hopped out to tell the infantry as they approached. He was wearing what looked like a German helmet, blue dungarees and a khaki tunic. I saw him stoop down to a wounded man, put his revolver on the ground beside him, and begin to bandage the wounded soldier's head.

"A man in my platoon picked up the revolver and another pointed his rifle at him. 'What's the game?' said the 'caterpillar's' man. He was such a queer mixture that our fellows wouldn't believe his yarn till he fetched out his paybook. Then he got his revolver back."

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse everyday. I had chills, my head would ache. I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pain in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. John A. Koenig, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

The Last Great West

Northern British Columbia is the last great undeveloped west. Everywhere in the United States and Canada a settlement has proceeded rapidly, but as yet, in the north of this province the newcomer has hardly made a place for himself. Those who know predict that the "last great west" will be the greatest of all; its agricultural possibilities will give it in the course of time a development that is not now even guessed at. But that development will have to be guided and aided by judicious Governmental assistance. — Vancouver World.

A Brave Deed

Courage and Coolness Win Out in Danger

The persistent eagerness of the plain private soldier at the front to leave no comrade in distress is one of the splendid traits in the character of the men fighting on the Somme. An instance of this is afforded in the coolness and courage with which Private Veale, a Devonshire lad, rescued an officer and won his V.C.

Hearing that a wounded officer was lying out in the front, about fifty yards from the enemy trench, Veale volunteered to go out and bring him in, if possible. His offer accepted, Veale, single-handed, crawled along a shell-swept piece of ground till he found his man, although his wounds were so serious that he could not take him, if he had the strength, all the way back to the trench. Veale, laying the poor officer down in a shell-hole, crawled back and got two volunteers to help him bring in the officer.

By this time the movements of our men were discerned by the enemy, who mercilessly waited till one of the volunteers had the officer on his back. Then the Huns fired, killing one of the rescuers.

Veale saw that it would be useless to proceed farther, so he again hied back to the trench, taking big risks. He asked for a Lewis gun, and, waiting till it was dusk, returned to his self-appointed commission, covering his comrades by the gun. They succeeded on this occasion, although when the officer and Veale reached the trench they fell into unconsciousness. Veale was ordered to the base for rest, which on reaching he begged to be allowed to go back to his work, remarking to the doctor, "I have got luck for this sort of job, sir." But Veale had to wait, of course, until he got his V.C., and he is still at the job. Of such is the human material hurling back the enemy from the occupied lands of France.

Boy Scout Notes

Items of Interest Gathered from Far and Near

His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, as Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts' Association for Canada, on the eve of his departure from Ottawa was presented with an album of photographs from the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts' Association illustrative of rallies and Boy Scout activities in general throughout the Dominion. The presentation was made at Government House by Sir Percy Shervin, Dominion Commissioner, and Mr. Gerald H. Brown, Honorary Dominion Secretary of the Boy Scouts' Association. The Duke of Connaught intimated that he was greatly pleased to have this souvenir of the Canadian Boy Scouts in whom he has been so deeply interested. Many of the photographs in the album show the Royal Chief Scout reviewing Boy Scout troops and rallies in Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria and a number of smaller centres.

From almost all of the belligerent countries have come stories of excellent services rendered by Boy Scouts in the war. Some time ago the Italian Boy Scouts expressed the desire to be utilized more freely in services for which their training has fitted them, and so a circular has been issued by the war ministry authorizing the employment of Boy Scouts as messengers attached to the various territorial army corps and with troops guarding railways, works of art, establishments, etc., as well as at military headquarters and hospitals.

The Scouts are rendering their services gratuitously, but soldiers' rations are furnished them and all that is necessary when on sentry duty or in camp. The employment of Boy Scouts in the coastguard service is especially advocated. The Italian Boy Scouts are available for these services during the summer months.

The Boy Scouts in New York have rendered a distinct service to the city by aiding in the protection of Central Park from those who wilfully or thoughtlessly destroy public property. The troop which has undertaken to do this work is known as Central Park Conservation Troop No. 114. It has 25 members, and their co-operation with the police and park authorities has been so interesting and entertaining that other boys who live near the park are trying to join the troop. The boys of this troop are finding many ways to protect property and to be of service to persons in the park. They report to the police or guards any actions in violation of the park rules, such as the breaking of trees, the picking of flowers, molesting of animals, fishing in the lakes, etc.

In the most inspiring farewell address delivered by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught before the Canadian Club of Ottawa the Royal guest gave expression to his belief in the Boy Scouts, — being one which is going to do a lot of good to the rising generation of Canada and will bring out all that is best and noblest in the boys who are now growing up and will be the future citizens of this country."

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Could Be Redeemed By Denmark By Payment of Pledge

The Orkney Islands, says Pearson's Magazine, do not really belong to Great Britain in the sense that they were never ceded by treaty or acquired by conquest. They were simply transferred by Denmark to Scotland in 1468, in pledge for the payment of the dowry of the Princess of Denmark, who was married to James III, King of Scotland. In the deed of transfer, which is still in existence, it is specially mentioned that Denmark shall have the right to redeem them at any future time by paying the original amount of the dowry with interest to date.

There is no likelihood, however, that Denmark will ever attempt to exercise her right of redemption, because sixty thousand florins, the original amount of the dowry, plus compound interest for 448 years, would amount to perhaps a trillion pounds, and that is a bit more than the islands are worth.

The War's Way

Beneficial Effect of Military Discipline on Incurables

That incorrigibility is often due only to unsuitable environment and, above all, to lack of proper discipline under conditions that require the exercise of all the available energy, is one of the great lessons of the present war. This observation has, of course, been previously made in times of war, but never to such an extent as in the present, and the New York Boy Scouts are available for these services during the summer months.

The Scouts are rendering their services gratuitously, but soldiers' rations are furnished them and all that is necessary when on sentry duty or in camp. The employment of Boy Scouts in the coastguard service is especially advocated. The Italian Boy Scouts are available for these services during the summer months.

The British Army in France

French Writer Pays a Splendid Tribute to the Men of Kitchner's Army

M. Eugene Tardieu, describing in the Echo de Paris a visit to the British front, says:

"The prolonged stay of millions of British subjects in the northern departments of France will have results which cannot yet be calculated. The alliance, cemented by the bloodshed in common, of two races which have long been hostile and which always remain dissimilar, is a moral event that is taking place before our eyes almost without our noticing it, and that offers to the psychologist a field of observation almost infinite in its wealth."

In another passage M. Tardieu says:

"When returning from London a little more than a year ago I had a boundless admiration for the British navy, but I admit that I did not believe a British army so rapidly improvised could ever be put on a level with the armies of the other allies. What I have just seen and heard has overcome my preconceived ideas."

"The British army on the French front today is perfectly adapted to its task. It is most powerfully organized. Its outstanding characteristic, to my mind, is its healthiness—a formidable healthiness, kept up by gigantic supplies of provisions. It is equally clean and smart, morally and physically. Every day it has its tub and takes its tea. With unfailing good humor it adapts itself imperceptibly to the inclemencies of the weather, to the mud of the trenches, and to hard blows from the enemy. It reminds one of some splendid athlete with every limb trained to the utmost and in such good physical condition that he can take any amount of punishment from his adversary, though at the same time he is ready and alert to choose the right moment for giving it back—a fighter who seems cut out to win his fight smiling."

The British army on the French front today is perfectly adapted to its task.

The Coming Patriotic Fund Campaign

The third campaign for the Patriotic Fund will soon be before our people. The demands upon the fund grow heavier as the enlistments increase. We must do better this year than last. The burden is greater, and we must bear a larger share of it. It is true that we have more than met the allotments assigned to us in the past, and if we make a similar record this year there will be no complaint.

In giving to the Patriotic Fund there are many shirkers and these should be made to realize their responsibility. We cannot force them to pay a cent. It is possible that we might shame them into paying, though in some cases men are prepared to even disgraced rather than give a cent for patriotic causes. They should be exposed and blacklisted by the people who are giving gladly and generously.

One fault with a great many people at the present time is that they have become somewhat listless in patriotic effort. They feel that all is going well with the allies and cease worrying about war problems. We must shake off that feeling. Now is the moment when we must stand firmly and solidly behind our country and our men. There must be no bulge in the line. We must keep a steady solid front against the enemy, and those of us at home can do it by staunchly backing up the boys in the trenches.

Then we have the people who say they are tired of giving. We wonder how much they have actually given. Have they given a loved one yet? Not likely. Their giving motives have likely been small. People must give until it hurts in order to make a real sacrifice. A man has no more right to say he is tired of giving than the man at the front has to say that he is tired of fighting. Think of the long winter campaign these men have to go through. They will stick to the job. Surely it is not too much to ask those at home to give a week's work and what they can in money to help on the cause.

Lethbridge will raise the $30,000 assigned it, and by united effort and proper appreciation of the great fund, half as much again can be added to it, says the Herald.

In order to bring the needs of the Patriotic Fund home to every individual in Southern Alberta, the newspapers generally, and including the Call, are co-operating with the Central Publicity Committee and will publish during the next few weeks a series of striking cartoons which have been prepared especially for use in Southern Alberta. The first of such cartoons appears in this issue. Our readers will be interested to know that Alberta initiative did not find it necessary to fall back on Eastern Canada or any other province for its cartoon service. The drawings were made by Alberta artists; the plates were made by Alberta engravers, the whole service is under the direction of Alberta advertising men. It will also interest the public to know that the service of the artists who made the drawings and the stereotypes who cast the plates, as well as that of the committee in charge, have all been given absolutely free as a donation to the Patriotic Fund cause.

The theatre loving people of Gleichen will have an opportunity next Monday night of proving whether or not they want meritorious companies to visit our town. The United Producing Co. has given us a number of good shows and now send the best artists with "Peg o' My Heart" to give us the opportunity of expressing our appreciation of the best on the road. If there is a good attendance we may expect other good theatrical performances.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce estimates in its commercial letter that the value of the chief cereal products of Canada—wheat, oats and barley—will this year be 38 per cent above the average of the years 1910 to 1915 inclusive. The estimated production of these grains is roughly 667,000,000, the estimated value is $455,094,000 as compared with an average for the past six years of $380,647,000. For the twelve months ending May 31, exports of flour amounted to 6,764,688 barrels, valued $87,852,859.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its practicability and its economic application.

You can buy irrigated land at the same cost as Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $85 to $15 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (6% interest); no principal payment at end of first or second years and no water tax for first year. Baby Afflicted with Eczema Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured

The Family Doctor Tried in Vain to Heal the Sores-- Another Tribute to This Great Healing Ointment

It may be interesting to note that Dr. Chase's Ointment was originally compounded to cure a case of eczema on a child. The disease had spread almost over the entire body and defied all the regular treatments for such troubles. The doctor was perplexed, but finally hit on the formula of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and, as many say, "it worked like a charm," healing the nasty sores, and leaving the skin soft and smooth.

That was a good many years ago, and since then many thousands of cases of eczema, both in children and adults, have been cured, until today Dr. Chase's Ointment is recognized as the standard cure for itching skin diseases.

Mrs. Geo. McNair, River Charles, N.B., writes as follows: "We use Dr. Chase's Ointment in our home, and would not wish for anything better for cuts, burns and bruises. A few years ago a friend of mine, whose daughter was terribly afflicted with eczema, had her child treated by her own family physician, but the little one got no better. They tried several remedies, but they all proved useless in this case. Upon the advice of a neighbor, they got Dr. Chase's Ointment, and before the first box was used the child was completely cured.

"I can also recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to recommend friends who know will be glad to learn of something to relieve their nervous trouble. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others."

So soothing and healing is Dr. Chase's Ointment that relief from itching and burning comes almost as soon as the ointment is applied. The sores are cleaned by the action of this treatment, and the process of healing is soon begun. By persistent use of the ointment cure is effected. 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edman Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Making the Best of It

Germany Has Invented Substitutes for Sundry Requisites

A large department store in Berlin comes out with this startling announcement: "True Economy is to use the disused. If unable to buy a new hat this season, try our second-hand helmets, replenished from the front." The gruesomeness of the advertisement aroused the indignation of an old soldier acting as policeman, and he entered the store and demanded that the offensive placard should be withdrawn. The manager, on being appealed to, very courteously showed him a document signed by the Commandant of the City, giving the store permission, under the Ratzen Act, to utilize old helmets. The cross-bow soldier returned to his beat, muttering, "This country is losing too much. By and by she will lose her self-respect." But that is not all. The most novel advertisements encountered in the German papers these days are offers of weird "substitutes" for a host of articles which could be had in unlimited quantity in pre-blockade times. Substitutes for soaps of all kinds are common. A firm in Leipzig advertises a substitute for pepper, and a concern in Mainz a substitute for turpentine. A Bremen house is anxious to buy "leather scraps of all sorts," to working up into various finished products. Substitutes for twine and string are numerous.

The Neighborhood Club

In any neighborhood there are certain problems, both business and social problems, that ought to be solved. These problems cannot be solved by the individual, but they can be solved by groups of individuals. No one outside the neighborhood is interested in them. You and your neighbors will build up your neighborhood or let it go into dry rot. The neighborhood club is the real working unit in any comprehensive plan for rural organizations. In this connection, all people are agreed that rural organization is a great need of the day. This does not mean that the neighborhood club cannot be affiliated with other neighborhood clubs the country over in the attacking of problems that are larger than the community. The place to start work, however, is right in your own neighborhood.—The Farmer.

Luxury in India

A Golden Throne Flashing With Diamonds

A Lancashire soldier, a member of the first British regiment to enter Mysore since it became an independent State, describes the scene of Oriental luxury and refinement that attended the reception accorded to the troops.

"At a municipal boundary," the soldier writes, "we were met by the three bands of his Highness, and we passed under a triumphal arch, with the bands playing 'The British Grenadiers,' and through streets gay with hunting and amid shouts of welcome. We were conducted through the beautiful Curzon Park on to the ground immediately facing Government House. In marques on each side of the drive a banquet fit for a king was spread.

"At 6 p.m. His Highness, escorted by a wonderfully picturesque and solidly mounted escort in attractive uniforms of yellow and black, rode up and received a Royal salute from the British troops who were reviewed. We gave him three British cheers, with helmets off, such as he had never heard before.

"A brief march brought us to Hardinge Circle, and then to the courtyard of the Maharaja's palace. The magnificent building suddenly burst into a blaze of glorious light; some 15,000 electric globes shone from every line, every nook and corner into the night, providing a spectacle of royal brilliance.

"We were permitted to go over the palace and were impressed into silence as we filed along the galleries of choice marble, under ceilings beautifully moulded, delicately tinted and gilded. Passing doors of sandal wood and silver, carved and chased, we entered the throne room, containing the brilliant Mysore throne. It is made of chased gold and set with diamonds, presented to an old-time ruler by one of the Emperors of India. It rests on four golden lions, whose eyes are flashing rubies.

"A flight of silver steps leads to the seat, which has cushions of gold cloth. Tassels of ropes of pearls hang from the arms. Above these is a golden umbrella with fringe of pearls, set with dazzling gems, and on the top it perches a golden parrot set with emeralds and diamonds holding an emerald pendant in its beak."

When war was declared the Maharaja was the first to place his troops at the unconditional disposal of the British Crown.

Potatoes a Paying Crop This Year

Shortage of Spuds in the East Means High Prices

A shortage of potatoes in Eastern Canada, with consequent high prices ruling, coupled with the bountiful crop in the West, gives the Western Canadian farmer an excellent opportunity to make money on his potatoes this year.

"Not only is there a scarcity in the East, but potatoes are few and far between in the Western States this year," said F. McClure Sclanders, of the Saskatoon Board of Trade. "A trade journal reports that Irish cobblers from New Brunswick a few days ago were fetching $1.60 a bushel on wholesale markets, the quotation being for carload lots on the Montreal market, the quotation being for bagged potatoes. The freight between here and Toronto, where prices are much the same, is 34 1/2 cents per bushel, or 57¢ per hundred pounds in carload lots, a carload being 1,000 bushels. This leaves the western grower a substantial margin of considerably more than a dollar, if he cares to take advantage of the situation in time.

"Inquiries for potatoes are coming in to the Board of Trade offices from large firms in the East. One was received recently from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and letters have also been received from the States."

ST. VITUS DANCE CAN BE EASILY CURED

A Tonic for the Blood and Nerves With Rest All That Is Needed

Many a child has been called awkward, has been punished in school for not keeping still or for dropping things, when the trouble was really St. Vitus dance. This trouble may appear at any age, but is most often met between the ages of six and fourteen. The most frequent cause of the disease is poor blood, aggravated by indoor confinement, or mental strain at school. Under these conditions the blood fails to carry nourishment to the nerves and the child begins to show listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless and twitches the muscles and jerkings of the limbs and body follow.

A remedy that cures St. Vitus dance and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood, thus feeding and strengthening the starved nerves. This is the only way to cure the trouble, and parents should lose no time in giving this treatment if their child seems nervous or irritable. Mrs. Wm. A. Squires, Cannington, Ont., says: "My only daughter, now fourteen years of age, was troubled for several years with St. Vitus dance. She was so bad that at times she would lose control of her limbs and her face and eyes would be contorted. We had medical advice and medicine, but it did not help her. In fact we thought the trouble growing worse, and finally we had to take her from school. About a year ago we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and by the time she had taken five boxes she was completely cured, and is now a fine, healthy girl. I firmly believe we owe this to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are very grateful for her restoration to perfect health."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Soldiers for the Land

Farmer-Soldier's Story of the Canadian West

Pte. John Reid, of the 128th Battalion (Saskatchewan) Canadian Infantry, is a soldier who looks ahead. During a brief leave of absence from the front he visited his native home in the Old Country and gave it as his firm belief that tens of thousands of men would, when the war is over, seek homes in Canada. "Each Canadian," he says, "in Flanders is a recruiting agent for the Dominion. Englishmen who earned a living in stores, factories, mills, shipyards, and even offices will not settle down any more to their old jobs. They have found new health and a new idea of life in Flanders and France, and, as there is no land in Great Britain to be got unless you possess the credit of the big farmer, where can they turn to the Overseas of the Dominions? Take my case. In 1911, I gave up tanning in the Old Country to try my luck in Canada. I located in the West, stayed on a homestead, and went through digging. I had to build my own shack—which a soldier will do as a bit of fun—dug my own well, cleared a bit of land, and made good. I own now 320 acres, have cattle, horses, farm machinery, and with the good money for grain that I got I am all right, and, on my own. These words, 'my own,' are music to a Britisher's ears, and I expect, if spared to get through the war, tens of thousands of fellows like me over in the West. But the West will have to behave a trifle better to them than some of the land sharks did to other greenhorns, because the war, with its good points, has made strong men who will stand no monkeying by sharpers and crooks."

care skin troubles by applying ointment to the surface skin. You must reach the underlying tissue where the disease has its roots. Ordinary ointments cannot do this, and that is why the relief they give is only temporary.

Zam-Buk, on the contrary, has such power of penetration, combined with unusual germ-destroying properties, that it reaches and destroys all germs in the underlying tissues. Then the healing essences promote the growth of new flesh, which gradually develops until the diseased patch is entirely replaced by new, healthy tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is effected.

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, and all skin troubles, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, salt rheum, chronic sores, blood-poisoning, boils, piles, cuts, burns, scalds and all skin injuries. All druggists, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 2 for $1.25.

The Truth About Beer

Analysis Shows That There Is Little Food Value in Malt Liquors

Dr. Alfred Plehn, a world-famous professor of hygiene, says "the man who drinks ale or beer or stout drinks it because he likes its narcotic and stupefying effects. If he thinks he gets any other effects from it he is deluding himself."

"We know exactly how much nutriment a glass of beer contains. It contains about five per cent. of malt extract, the food value of which is very small."

"This extract consists of protein matter, converted and unconverted sugar, hop resin, and other substances of no dietary value, lest as a residue after complete evaporation. In addition, beer sometimes contains preservatives, such as sodium fluoride and salicylic acid, together with soda bicarbonate to neutralize the acidity and to help put the foaming head on it, also salt to overcome the disagreeable taste, and perhaps inspire a thirst for more."

"This leaves us a few grains of protein and a small amount of sugar as the food in the beer. If the tissues are supplied with a liberal quantity of water, life can be sustained for a considerable length of time. Dr. Tanner fasted for forty days. Perhaps some beer expert might do better if he could rid the beer of the alcohol which it contains, in which the absence of other food to attack would prey upon the tissues like a myriad of infinitesimal teeth."

Even the brewers say in one of their leaflets that beer would be better without alcohol if it could be made with the same taste. Thus we see that beer contains an exceedingly small quantity of nourishment, and that any benefit that might come from this is offset by the alcohol and other poisonous substances which it contains.

It is a safe conclusion that those who drink large quantities of beer do so, not for its food value, but for the dope effect of the alcohol and other narcotic drugs which it contains.

I plead for the co-operation of all who can in spreading these truths.—H. Arnott, M.B., M.C.P.S.

What Strict Accountability Means

President Wilson's strong plea to the electors of the United States is that he "has kept his country out of the war." The All-Highest also has kept most of Germany out of the war for the time being, but he has not kept the Germans out of it. Nor has the President of the United States kept Americans out of the war. Over a hundred of them were killed when the Lusitania was torpedoed without warning, many more were blown to pieces on their own soil, and so far the murderers have not been held to strict accountability." — Victoria Times.

Comfort for the Dyspeptic.

There is no ailment so harassing and exhausting as dyspepsia, which arises from defective action of the stomach and liver, and the victim of it is to be pitied. Yet he can find ready relief in Parmentier's Vegetable Pills, a preparation that has established itself by years of effective use. There are pills that are widely advertised as the greatest ever compounded, but not one of them can rank in value with Parmentier's.

Mansions of Meerschaum

Unpretentious Houses of This Material to Be Found in Spain

Even the most aesthetically inclined of our American millionaires would hardly consider the luxury of living in a palace built of meerschaum as within the range of their fortunes, yet there are many unpretentious houses of this material in the Spanish town of Vallecitos, near Madrid, where a coarse variety of this substance is to be found. On the other hand, the Moroccans, just across the Straits of Gibraltar, find that still another variety of meerschaum lathers freely and they use it, perhaps sparingly, as a substitute for soap.

Chips and sawdust of the meerschaum pipe factories make an excellent cleaning powder for removing stains from costly fabrics. An inferior pipe is also made from these scraps, the fragments being bound together with some solution and then moulded into blocks.

Meerschaum is found in Greece and in Hrubsitz, Moravia, as well as in Asia Minor, and to a limited extent in Pennsylvania, South Carolina and in the upper Gila valley, near Silver Lake.—N. M. Stone, New York.

$500.00 REWARD in GOLD

During the ensuing weeks from now until New Year 1917 we will have on prominent display our "Busy Store Calendar" for the coming year. Needless to say it is a magnificent work of art and Ramsay's 1917 Calendar is going to captivate his customers. Our calendar for this year has been produced without a title, the issuers have adopted this idea as a means of intensifying greater calendar interest. Only a few general stores in this Province have been honored by the producer with the handling of this unnamed calendar. Ramsay of Gleichen is one of the favorites. The person who furnishes the best and most appropriate title that best conveys the artist's idea wins a prize of $500.00 in Gold. All Ramsay's customers will have this GOLDEN opportunity. This is as good as 350 bushels of wheat and no reason can be offered as to why we cannot get this $500.00 in the Gleichen district—enough said.

The Blackfeet Reservation

During the next two or three weeks our staff will be over-taxed to the utmost with our splendid Blackfeet customers, who spend 90 per cent of their money at Ramsay's Busy Store. Our pale-face customers will get their wants supplied as usual, but it may call for the exercise of some patience. Everybody on our staff can wait on three or four people at once. We are used to this most every day of the year, but with the additions we are adding for the next five weeks we are going to see that everybody, black and white, get what they want when they want it.

Your Christmas Cooking

Now is starting wheels moving in every housekeepers top story. Put down raisins on that list, and the currants, and the peels, and the spices, and the lard, butter and eggs, also Robin Hood flour, and 100 lbs. sugar, and what else? If you don't remember ask us. We can tell you.

Our big Apple Demonstration of last Saturday was a notable event in Gleichen's history. Had you been on the trails leading out of our town last Saturday evening you would have seen wagons and cars loaded up with Ramsay's apples homeward bound. The drivers wondering what Gleichen would be without "Ramsay's Busy Store". Many orders were received by 'phones from adjacent points along the C.P.R., and these were shipped out on Monday morning. Another proof that the Busy Store draws trade from far and near. Your interests are ours.

Yours for a Record Breaking Business from now until Xmas.

Recently a local sport dropped sixty plunks in a machine and after giving a check for it thought what a fool he was and stopped payment of it. The case was dismissed in police court but it cost something to bring an attorney from Calgary to defend the action and civil action may follow. The way of the transgressor is hard.

It is quite the ordinary to see six and frequently eight horse teams hauling loads of grain to the Gleichen elevators, but one day last week Mike Powers put one over the rest of our expert drivers and drove in with ribbons over ten horses, hauling three grain tanks from the Pacific Cold Storage south ranch. It was a pretty sight and we regret that a photo was not obtained of it. Some of the small boys thought a circus was coming to town.

J. A. E. Beaupre is down from Calgary renewing acquaintances and looking after his business affairs here. He wears the same happy smile as of yore and city life seems to agree with him. Mr. Beaupre spent practically all his life in the general store business in Gleichen, succeeding his father, who located this town and nearly all the towns in the west along the C. P. R. To father and son nearly all the old-time ranchers and farmers owe a great deal as in their early struggles and during many a hard year they were carried financially by these two gentlemen. Many wealthy men today admit that had it not been for the generosity of Mr. Beaupre and his deceased father they would have been down and out years ago. To these men Gleichen owes much.
